Hello!

Many thanks to Year 11 and 9C for their interesting contributions to Tjaru.

Because the Inter-Collegiate Week has been postponed we will not be having a dance on Friday night. On Tuesday night we will have our 8th Birthday Dinner-Dance. Let's all try to make this dance special. There are two very good prizes. One is a lucky number prize. When you go into the Dining Room you will be given a number. Keep it. It might be the lucky one. The other prize will be given for the person who looks very smart and dances well during the evening.

Help will be needed with decorations. If you would like to help on Tuesday afternoon, write your name below and give this piece of paper to me.

Birthday greetings go to:- Doreen Alex, Betty Glen, Alan Martin.

Happy Birthday.

HELENA MONAGHAN.

I, _____ would like to help decorate the Dining Room on Tuesday afternoon.

Education is something which goes on right through your life, until you are old. But education is especially important when you are young.

If you go to school and stay at school, one day you may be educated. But you will not be properly educated until you have learned about a job. Learning about a job comes after school — at Alice Springs hospital, Police Training Centre, Batchelor College, NTEC and so on.

If you want to be properly educated, you should do 3 things

1. Stay at secondary school for 4 years or more (until Year 10 or more)

2. Learn as many skills as you can at Yirara — how to drive, how to umpire, how to weld, how to speak in public, how to think clearly. Education means knowing many things.

3. Go on to further training after Yirara. 4

Congratulations to ...

..... Sylvania Kenny, who is working very hard in 9C.

R. Watt.

..... the staff (Daybreakers) who are training so hard for the touch rugby match against the student team (Midnighters). Daybreakers are sure to win!!!

R. Watt.

..... Audrey N. and Josephine H. for working so very hard in class.

J. Hingston.

..... all those staff who are still standing and occasionally smiling.

H. Monaghan.

..... the Choir girls who sang so well at the Old Timers Fete on Saturday.

H. Monaghan.

STAFF vs STUDENTS TOUCH RUGBY MATCH.

In what promises to be the mis-match of the year, a star studded staff team will play the students next Thursday at 2pm.

With two training runs under its belt, the staff team has moulded into a tough outfit. (Not good, but certainly mean and tough!)

Captain-coach Traynor has whipped his recruits up to fever pitch for the big game and his impressive outfit is just waiting to have a crack at the student team. Traynor has named a squad of 14 so that there will be plenty of replacements to supply spare parts for his top players.

At fullback the staff have named Nixon. Although he's a little slow these days, his good name speaks for itself.

On the flanks are well known right winger Lee and flashy left winger Ellis.

Chosen for their speed and agility are centres Langford and Dennis, an interesting combination.

Anyone who is prepared to umpire footy games at Traeger Park can't be all there, so Ogston was the logical choice for five-eighth.

A halfback is usually tough and experienced and must also be strong and nippy. The dazzling footwork of Odling-Smee made him the only possible choice for halfback.

In the lock position no one could go past outstanding runner Jantzen.

For the second row where natural understanding is essential the staff have selected those two old timers who simply cannot be omitted, Murphy and Webber.

The front row provided some debate among the selectors, but, in the end, two men always in the thick of the action were chosen: Holt and Hopkins.

That experienced campaigner Weichert was an obvious choice for hooker. His ability to fill in as dummy half made his selection in the team a certainty.

The student team to meet this formidable combination is:

Clive Allen

Adrian McDonald (Captain)

Billy Spratt

Michael Downes

James Ullamari

Patrick Nandy

John Pepperill
Campbell Herbert
Nigel Small
Steven Bailey
Gordon Dobbs

Lachlan Ross
Dion Williams
Malcolm Riley
Hardy Wynbyne
Frankie O'Cleary

The big match will be played at 2pm on the second last day of term.
An experience referee from N.S.W. will control the match. Classes will be suspended for the afternoon so that all students can come out to the soccer field and watch.

There will be two 15 minute halves with a 5 minute break in between.

It is hoped that this great gladiatorial contest may become an annual event at Yirara College.

STORIES ABOUT YUENDUMU SPORTS WEEKEND.

Last night we had a concert at Yuendumu. We were dancing and screaming for Elcho Island mob. I was dancing with Noreen McCormack and Mt. Allan mob. After that we all went back to sleep. In the morning I was very tired, because I had been dancing all night at the concert. Mrs. Norma came and woke me up, then I went straight to breakfast. After breakfast I went to visit the Napperby people at Yuendumu.

By Madeline Gibson.

On Friday we went to Yuendumu for the sports. When we arrived at Yuendumu we went to see the basketball. We were sitting near the basketball court. I saw the girls playing well. When it was dark we went to sleep. Early in the morning we woke up and went to eat breakfast. Then we went to see the football. When we were watching the football a girl came and sat beside us. Her name was Maxine Harry. She came from Indulkana and she is married to the Ranger. He comes from Ernabella.

By Julie Yangkie.

On Sunday we went to see who was winning in Athletics. I saw one girl from Yirara College. She was first in Athletics. When she went to get her prize she was getting shamed and she won a bag. Mrs. Smeed said, "Well done Minnie."

By Elva Poulson.

On Sunday night I went to the dance by myself. It was dark but there were some people walking in the front. I went beside them. I went in, it was so crowded, there were lots of people. I went around to look for Katherine, then I saw Nancy. I went to them. They were dancing. I told them that I came in by myself. Then I saw Katherine. She was dancing, I called out and me and her were dancing. After dancing with me she went back to the girls. I went to Nancy and Margaret, they were still dancing. It was so full in the front so I went outside and I went to Mrs. Taylor. I stayed for a while then went back to the dance. We stayed there for a long time. I was standing and a woman was hitting her daughter who ran away with her boyfriend.

By Sylvania Kenny.

We arrived at Yuendumu in the afternoon on the Yirara bus. I got out and went to the tents. I asked Maxie, "Where is my cousin Mark?" Maxie said, "I don't know where he is." Then Bruce came and said, "Ronald, Uncle Frankie is here." I asked him if it was true that Dad was here. That night Bruce and I went to the basketball to see the games. Then I met my step-father and he said "Hello son." I said, "Good to see you Dad." He said, "Son, could you get me a drink?" "Yes, I will." I went to the shop. Then I came back and met William. He said, "Friend get me something to eat and drink." Then he said, "Keep the change friend." Mark yelled at me I looked around and saw Mark and John Hector. He said, "Hey mate." I said, "Good to see you friend." John said, "If I see my family I'll ask them for money."

... STORIES ...

THIS STORY IS ABOUT A LADY WHO LIVES ALL BY HERSELF.

Once upon a time there lived a farmer and his wife. They lived a long way from the city. They had a son who lived in the city. He never came to visit his father and mother. The mother had a little baby girl. The girl's name was Jill. The mother and father died when their daughter was a big girl. The girl lived by herself on the farm. She knew that she must leave the farm and go to the city. She didn't know she had a brother. She went to school in the city. She had no friends, she was all alone. She slept anyway. When she went to school early one morning the teacher called out and told her about her brother. She was so happy to have a brother. She stayed with her brother a long time.

Before her brother died he said to her that she could have the house, and she did have the house by herself. She was now grown up. She even looked pretty. But one thing, she was by herself. She began to get older. But she was still looking after herself. She even went to the shop. She still looked strong. Some old lady died but she didn't. She was still alive. At last the time came and she died by herself. The next door people cried because she was nice.

By Sylvania Kenny.

BILL, A LONELY BOY.

One day Bill was very lonely, because he didn't have any parents at home, he lived by himself near the river. He always went to school. He didn't have any friends at school because he was very lonely. One morning two new boys came to school, their names were Andrew and Jeremy. They were good friends for Bill and Bill was very happy for them. They all went to swim near Bill's house. After that Bill's friends went home. He went to his house to have supper then he went straight to his bed. In the morning he woke up early and went to have a shower. That afternoon he met his two friends in the street walking across the footpath. They all went to the playground to play football. They saw three girls in the street and chased them.

By Madeline Gibson.

A GIRLS CALLED WENDY.

Once there was a girl called Wendy. She lived with her mother and father in a little country. The country was beautiful. Everyday Wendy went for a walk because she was the only one in the country. She was feeling so lonely because no-one could play with her. One day Wendy's mother and father said to her, "Wendy would you like to go to school?" "No, said Wendy, I don't want to go to school." And Wendy's father said "You can go and make friends so that you can bring them back here to your country so they can think your country is beautiful." Wendy said, "Yes, I want to go to school." Next morning the family went to the city, they went where the school was. Wendy's father asked the boss if his daughter could go to school there. The boss said, "Yes, she can go to school here." Wendy was very happy.

By Edna Kantawara.

THERE LIVED A LONELY YOUNG GIRL.

The young girl lived all alone in a small house. She had a boyfriend too. The young girl's name was Penny and the boy's name was Trevor. Trevor always came to visit Penny. Sometimes they went for picnics. One day Penny said to Trevor, "We must get married in a few months, we'll have a big home for our family." Trevor said, "First I must get a job in town and then we'll get a new car and a caravan." On the first of July, 1962, they got married at a small village in York Bay. Penny met her sister called Mary. But Mary was wondering how to get a boyfriend too as her sister did. Then Trevor called to his brother Terry. Terry looked around and saw Trevor. It was good to see his brother. Then Mary fell in love with Terry. Mary wanted to marry Terry. In three days Mary and Terry got married in the same village.

By Ronald Morrison.

Lonely Boy.

Long ago in the dreamtime a lonely boy was staying in the bush. One day he went hunting for kangaroos. He speared one kangaroo and carried it to his place then cooked it. When the kangaroo was cooked he got up and got the kangaroo and cut it in half. He ate the meat. Sometimes he went to the sandhill and played. Then he went to the cave where he lived. He went swimming in the rockhole and then when it's a little bit dark he went back and made a fire and went to sleep. He was getting taller and he could spear emus and other things too. He went to another place and he made a little house and went for a walk. One girl came and saw him standing near the water. The girl ran away and hid behind the bushes. Then he came back and saw the tracks and he saw a girl standing and he got shamed. After that they lived happily.

THIS STORY IS ABOUT AN OLD LADY.

Once upon a time there lived an old lady in a far off country far away from town. She had one cow, two hens and one dog on her little farm in the country. She had two sisters that lived in the town far away from her. The old lady was lonely in the country with her animals. Her sister had two little children, one was a boy and the other one was a girl. One was young. She decided to go to her two sisters in the town and leave her house behind in the country.

By Barbara Moore.

THE STORY ABOUT THE LONELY BOY AND LONELY GIRL.

There was a lonely boy and a lonely girl. They always did their jobs quickly and cleaned every thing up and went for walks. One day they left their food on the ground and they forgot it. One little man came and ate all the food. When they came back they that the food was missing and they got very, very angry and they never went on any more walks. The next day they went to see his mother and father. The girls name was Silly Lilly and the boys name was Rodney Driver and he always drove a car. Sometimes they go swimming and fishing. This is the end of the story about a lonely girl and a lonely boy.

By Alice Kunoth.

THE BOY AND MY DOG AND ME.

I like to go hunting with my dog and my brother. We hunt fish, duck and animals. We go hunting and come back with lots of fish, duck and animals. We go in the morning time and come back at night time. We go to the mountain to hunt bears, goats and rabbits. I like to go swimming and playing in the cold fresh, clean water. We play cowboys and indians with guns and spears. I like to eat fish and rabbits, fruit and watermelon. I like to play in the cold fresh jungle with lots of toys and cars. I live in the mountain country. Where lots of trees and wild animals live in the jungle.

By Maxie Stevenson.

LOST IN THE BUSH.

Once I was walking by the beautiful river with my dog named Jupurrula. He was very good at hunting. So I said "Jupurrula, why can't me and you go hunting?" He barked at me and ran to me and jumped. I got my lunch ready and got my brother's gun. He told me not to touch his gun.

I saw a big emu behind a little bush. I didn't know how to use a gun. Jupurrula was on the other side of the emu. So I took aim at the emu. I missed the emu and shot my dog. I ran as fast as I could, but Jupurrula was dead. It was getting dark for me. I didn't know how to get back home and it was getting so dark that I could not see anything. On my way home the wind howled and the spooky sounds came from birds. A bird jumped out of the grass and frightened me. My family was worrying about me.

By Ronald Morrison.

A GOANNA WHO STOLE THREE EGGS.

Once there was a duck she had her nest near a pond. The pond was a very good place for her to build her nest. One day when she was flying around the pond trying to find some feed for herself to eat, a goanna came by and saw the nest with three eggs in it.

He ran to the nest and took one egg.

Then he took the other two and there were no eggs left in the nest. When he turned and walked away, the duck came as fast as she could and saw the goanna running away.

The duck tried to stop the goanna. But the goanna didn't stop for the duck.

So the duck went back to her nest and rested for a little time. She built a nest near a tree.

There was good green grass to sleep on. The duck laid some new eggs. After a little time three little ducks came out of the eggs. So the duck and her three little children lived for good near the pond and the goanna went away and found a new place to live in. It had water for him to drink.

Ron Morrison.

You see me moving to and fro,
Brightening places as I go.
I go to work on lots of boats
And often put on many coats.
I keep working everywhere
Until the day I lose my hair.

What am I?

By Nellie Brumby,

If you read "James and the Giant Peach" by Roald Dahl, this recipe written by Kathy Tanami will taste delicious.

CENTIPEDE'S SOUP.

- 1 frog's egg
- 1 human's heart
- 6 fly's eyes
- 2 snake's tails
- 4 cockroach bodies
- 1 dog's arm
- 1 cat's leg
- 1 turtle's nose

The centipede made this lovely soup and invited his friends to come and eat the soup. One of his friends didn't like to eat the soup. It was very awful. They all didn't like centipede soup so they went outside and vomited.

A VERY HUNGRY CENTIPEDE.

I like to eat hot stew for lunch of beetle and dogs eyes, frogs body for supper and fish lung and dead man's eyes lung and ear for our big feast. We will be rich for food. We'll go to a dump for cockroach. Mmmmm that will be nice juicy food for breakfast, and a dead horse with a stinky body, mmmmmmm. Very juicy eyes, lung and blood that will make a jicy meal for all my centipede gang. But my gangs want juicy food like ants and elephants eyes, and lungs. Oh, that will be more delicious than beetles and dog's eyes. If I see a butterfly caught I will go and gobble it up and I will go to a man's house and in another man has killed him I will have a really good delicious juicy fresh liver, eyes, ears and lung. Half will be safe for my gangs, the centipedes. They will have frogs mixed with cockroaches and elephants for lunch.

By Aileen Roy.

THE SQUP.

I like to boil some stew and put frogs and flies in it and have it for lunch. Also I like roasted mice with cockroach legs and half of my flesh. I put some snot on my fried frog after he comes out of the oven. I can't hardly wait to eat my favourite lunch.

I like shark flesh, toe nails and dog's eye, fleas, beetles and some rotten cow. Anybody who would like to come and have lunch with me can sign his name and go to: Place 4 Mavsrot Street, 6517. And here is your ticket man. I might invite the supreme photographer and the supreme professor.

I AM KANGAROO.....By John Pepperill.

I am a kangaroo
That hops on two legs
With my tail huge and strong
Travelling through unknown country
Looking for a kind of my own
I stop and rest and lie beneath a shady gum tree
As a sunburnt country lies ahead
Wind blows strongly into the country I am longing for
I keep away from hunters which have one thing on their minds
And that is to kill Australian native kangaroos for fun
My dreams have slowly drifted like the smoke into the trees
The bushland that spreads all around me has its secrets that will never be answered by the coming people.
I cry for my loved ones and the country in which I was born
I bound away into the darkness of the night.
